Collaboration in Action: Overview and Lessons from “Data, Planning, and Impact: A Joint Adult Redeploy Illinois and Criminal Justice Coordinating Councils Summit”

Introduction

Last May, the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority (ICJIA) convened “Data, Planning, and Impact: A Joint Adult Redeploy Illinois & Criminal Justice Coordinating Councils Summit.” Organized in partnership with Loyola University’s Center for Criminal Justice Research, Policy, and Practice, and the Illinois Center of Excellence for Behavioral Health and Justice, the event served as both the annual Adult Redeploy Illinois (ARI) All-Sites Summit for practitioners working with ARI-funded diversion program, and a convening of the pilot Criminal Justice Coordinating Councils (CJCC) with whom ICJIA has partnered with as part of the National Criminal Justice Reform Project.

The summit’s goal was to bring together a broad range of stakeholders from counties and judicial circuits either operating or interested in developing CJCCs and ARI-funded local prison diversion programs and provide useful research and training on critical criminal justice trends and issues. Participants included probation officers and court personnel, judges, states attorneys and public defenders working on ARI programs and CJCC members, including judges, states attorneys, public defenders, sheriffs, county board members, service providers, and other law enforcement representatives. ICJIA convened these groups to encourage partnerships that enhance local efforts to improve the effectiveness and scope of criminal justice planning and practice.

This report gives an overview of the first joint ARI/CJCC summit as a case study of ICJIA efforts to better “coordinate its coordination” by creating opportunities for engagement between state and local jurisdictions, as well as across and among local jurisdictions. This report offers an overview of summit programming, participant feedback, and recommendations for future CJCC and ARI program application.

Background About CJCCs and ARI

ARI Program Description

Adult Redeploy Illinois (ARI) is a state-funded program designed to build and support more effective and less expensive community alternatives to incarceration for non-violent offenders. Established by the Crime Reduction Act (Public Act 96-0761) and housed at ICJIA, ARI provides grants to local jurisdictions (counties, groups of counties, judicial circuits) to support problem-solving courts, enhanced probation supervision with services, and other evidence-based interventions responsive to the needs of their communities. As an accountability mechanism, ARI sites agree to reduce by 25 percent (based on the past three years’ average) the number of people they send to the Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC) from a locally defined target population.

The goals of ARI are to:

- Reduce crime and recidivism in a way that is cost effective for taxpayers.
- Provide financial incentives to counties or judicial circuits to create effective local-level evidence-based services.
- Encourage the successful local supervision of eligible offenders and their reintegration into the locality.

- Perform rigorous data collection and analysis to assess the outcomes of the programs.

ARI was modeled after the successful juvenile Redeploy Illinois program initiated in 2005. ARI was based on the “performance incentive funding” best practice, intended to align fiscal and operational responsibility for non-violent offenders at the local level to produce better public safety at a lower cost.

ARI provides funding and technical assistance to 22 sites across 45 counties.

CJCC Program Description

Criminal Justice Coordinating Councils (CJCCs) are partnerships of decisionmakers who have a stake in the effective administration of justice. Typically, the partnerships are organized at the county level and include representatives from:

- (1) The three branches of government (executive, judicial, and legislative).
- (2) Multiple levels of government (city, county, and state agencies).
- (3) Allied stakeholders from various other governmental entities, such as education or health and human services, community based organizations, service providers, and citizens.

CJCCs follow a structured, data-driven planning process to identify, analyze, solve, and manage justice system issues. This work leads to better understanding of crime and criminal justice problems, greater cooperation among agencies and units of local government, clearer objectives and priorities, more effective resource allocation, and better quality criminal justice programs and personnel. Taken together, these results can increase public confidence in and support for criminal justice processes, enhancing system performance and, ultimately, the integrity of the law.

As part of the National Criminal Justice Reform Project, ICJIA and Loyola University have partnered to help local jurisdictions access, understand, and use system-level data for strategic planning and systems improvement as they form CJCCs. ICJIA and Loyola partner with Lake, McLean, McHenry, St. Clair, and Winnebago counties CJCCs; CJCCs have been identified in several other counties, as well.

Summit overview

ICJIA conserved resources by convening ARI and CJCC program stakeholders together May 8-10. ICJIA had an opportunity to leverage the networks of CJCC and ARI participants by hosting an event that would address the unique interests of each group while offering programming on data, research, and coordination that was useful to both groups.

To accomplish this, the agenda was structured to build in opportunities to focus exclusively on CJCC and ARI programming and convene the groups in joint sessions, as well. The first half day focused on the CJCCs and featured strategic planning, an ARI introduction, and planning sessions. The next day's full-day joint session for both groups included presentations on national and state perspectives on coordination, case studies on efforts in Lake and McLean counties, and finding sustainable support for justice programs. Also held were breakout sessions on critical topics of interest identified in ARI and CJCC surveys, including medication-assisted treatment, procedural justice, emerging adults, and trauma-informed care. The day also included a "CJCC 101" discussion, a panel on ARI eligibility expansion, and interactive site reports from ARI members. The conference agenda is attached as Appendix A.

Moving forward

One of the primary goals of the summit was to use what was learned to inform ICJIA's ARI and CJCCs programming and future coordination work.

During the summit, ICJIA recognized a strong desire for more state-local coordination around criminal justice issues. Several ARI sites expressed interest in starting CJCCs. The data-driven approach was embraced by participants, with many requests for access to data on local jurisdictions and state trends. ARI stakeholders discussed improving and expanding the data feedback loop for their programs, which could both anchor and benefit from broader analysis at the CJCC level.

Evaluations and discussions furthered the conclusion that a diversity of needs exists throughout the state and program offerings should be better tailored to the unique needs of each jurisdiction. Coordination and program needs can vary substantially. Older CJCCs often already have strategic plans and bylaws, while newer CJCCs may need to wait to develop a commitment to joint planning prior to moving forward. Mapping out the process of CJCC development while considering other coordinated efforts, such as ARI, will help determine what inputs are most needed and when.

On the same note, how challenges facing rural partners differ from those in more urban counties became clear. Collaborative practices that have been effective in jurisdictions with more resources may need tailoring to be effective in places with less dense populations and fewer services. Summit participants requested a separate track for rural jurisdictions to problem-solve around their unique needs. ARI's work in rural jurisdictions can offer lessons learned for this area.

Finally, the need for grant-making support, planning, and coordination were reinforced. Without resources it is difficult for counties to engage in collaborative work without staff members whose primary responsibilities are to lead the effort. In ARI, sites are required to have at least a quarter-time equivalent staff person dedicated to program coordination and reporting. A grant investment in a dedicated project coordinator at each CJCC site, perhaps expanding on the ARI role where applicable, could be a cost-effective way to support this work as well as connect efforts across ICJIA-funded activities. State or federal funding should be used to support coordinators over multiple years to allow for continuity of coordination work.

Recommendations

After a review of summit evaluations, discussion among program managers, and input from members of the ICJIA Coordinating Council Advisory Committee, the following recommendations for ICJIA programming were made:

Focus on CJCC development: ICJIA should develop strategies to sustain current CJCC partnerships and build relationships with additional counties. This includes:

- a) Focusing on developing partnerships with colleges and universities to expand research and evaluation work with local jurisdictions.

- b) Incentivizing local planning and coordination activities through ICJIA grant making. Use planning grants to create a longer term sustainable funding structure for coordination (e.g. terms of two-year or longer).
- c) Offer analysis of local criminal justice trends and issues to any county on request.

Make coordination a key function of the ICJIA Board's: Use ICJIA's board and board committees to better coordinate work of state criminal justice and public health agencies.

- a) Task board with working on one concrete policy/coordination issue each year, with progress reports given at each quarterly meeting.

Enhance representation of rural counties in ICJIA work: Ensure the views of rural counties are actively solicited and that they are represented in policymaking (e.g. boards, task forces, etc.).

- a) All taskforces/ICJIA boards should have broad regional representation from Illinois (including rural jurisdictions in Northern, Central, and Southern regions of the state)

Conclusion

The joint ARI-CJCC summit represented an opportunity for ICJIA to hear from partners at the state and local levels about the successes and challenges of coordinated work and improve how ICJIA supports them. Leveraging shared resources to convene grantees and local partners helps ICJIA expand the impact and reach of training programs and gives local stakeholders a chance to network and build relationships with each other to further mutual goals.

Feedback received prior to the summit also encouraged program reassessment and adjustment to programming to ensure the needs of local partners are met. Planned are increased funding to support coordination and planning, making further strides to increase geographic representation in AR and CJCC activities, and engaging the ICJIA Board with concrete projects that further this work.

Dear Board Members,

I wanted to let you all know that on Monday, I submitted my resignation to Governor Pritzker. My last day will be February 28th.

I cannot put into words what an honor it has been to lead the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority (ICJIA) and to work for the people of Illinois. I also want to thank you for all you have done over the last four years, from helping transform our grant making from a legacy-based to a competitive-research-informed system to overseeing an unprecedented expansion in our federal victim service funding. I know ICJIA will continue to be a leading resource for helping make Illinois and its communities a safer and more just place for everyone.

If there is anything I can do for any of you to help you in your work, please don't hesitate to contact me on my personal email: [REDACTED]

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 16, 2019

Contact: Chris Bastardi bastardi@sunshinesachs.com

Below please find a statement from Todd S. Pugh and Victor P. Henderson, attorneys for Jussie Smollett.

“As a victim of a hate crime who has cooperated with the police investigation, Jussie Smollett is angered and devastated by recent reports that the perpetrators are individuals he is familiar with. He has now been further victimized by claims attributed to these alleged perpetrators that Jussie played a role in his own attack. Nothing is further from the truth and anyone claiming otherwise is lying.

“One of these purported suspects was Jussie’s personal trainer who he hired to ready him physically for a music video. It is impossible to believe that this person could have played a role in the crime against Jussie or would falsely claim Jussie’s complicity.

“Jussie and his attorneys anticipate being further updated by the Chicago Police Department on the status of the investigation and will continue to cooperate. At the present time, Jussie and his attorneys have no inclination to respond to “unnamed” sources inside of the investigation, but will continue discussions through official channels.”

Good morning everyone,

We have now tracked our two suspect's travel path backwards to where they were picked up by a vehicle at approx. 4100 N. Ashland. This is three blocks away from where we tracked their end path to the 3800 block of N. Marshfield. We can see the purple Lyft light in the front window of the vehicle but the subpoena we served on Lyft came up negative. Knowing that many of the ride share drivers work for both Lyft and Uber, we will be at the Grand Jury this morning to get a subpoena for Uber records.

Updates to follow.

Good Morning everyone,

TODAY'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS 3 February 2019:

WINS FOR THE DAY

- We filled in the timeline and have video from the time the suspects enter SUN taxi at 0113hrs - 1400 N. Wells - until the last time they are seen on camera at 0229hrs near 3800 N. Marshfield after they got out of the Yellow Cab. During this timeline we are missing approximately 6 minutes of video:
 - Approx. 1.5 minutes where the suspects are in the same area as the incident, prior to the incident happening.
 - About 1 minute when the incident occurred.
 - About 3 minutes after the suspects go up the stairs from the Riverwalk at Columbus until they are seen walking up East South Water Street
- The video footage along the "River East Art Center Promenade" (pre-incident) and from the Hyatt (post incident) give us good footage showing their clothing.
- We located the SUN taxi that took them to Illinois and Lower LSD. We were able to collect video and audio from the cab which shows the entire trip and we are able to see their faces.

The manager at the bar who was interviewed said they had been contacted by two separate media outlets trying to verify the story. TO DO:

- Write a subpoena for the Lyft records for trip of the Lyft SUV. (Cant be completed until the Grand Jury opens on Monday)

All,

Fyi - we are getting inquiries from media about two blog posts who claim to have knowledge of search warrants in the [REDACTED] case. See notification from Sgt. Alioto below. Also included is our response to those media inquiries:

The Press Office has no knowledge of any subpoenas in this case. The Police Department is still investigating this incident and is treating the actor as a victim. This investigation into the attack continues and as with all active investigations, the Chicago Police Department will not comment on specifics to ensure the integrity of the investigation.

A Chicago Blog known as CWB (Crime in Wrigleyville Boystown) is reporting that a subpoenas have been issued in the [REDACTED] case for the phone records. The below quote is from the Daily Wire which appears to be a conservative news website.

Sources close to the Chicago Police Department also tell The Daily Wire that police have filed a series of subpoenas in order to compel the production of Smollett's phone records from the night of the attack, a report apparently confirmed by CWB Chicago.

Our office has no knowledge of any such information in this case and have been responded to inquiries with approved statements on the case.

Good morning everyone,

We have now tracked our two suspect's travel path backwards to where they were picked up by a vehicle at approx. 4100 N. Ashland. This is three blocks away from where we tracked their end path to the 3800 block of N. Marshfield. We can see the purple Lyft light in the front window of the vehicle but the subpoena we served on Lyft came up negative. Knowing that many of the ride share drivers work for both Lyft and Uber, we will be at the Grand Jury this morning to get a subpoena for Uber records.

Updates to follow.

Good Morning everyone,

TODAY'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS 3 February 2019:

WINS FOR THE DAY

- We filled in the timeline and have video from the time the suspects enter SUN taxi at 0113hrs - 1400 N. Wells - until the last time they are seen on camera at 0229hrs near 3800 N. Marshfield after they got out of the Yellow Cab. During this timeline we are missing approximately 6 minutes of video:
 - Approx. 1.5 minutes where the suspects are in the same area as the incident, prior to the incident happening.
 - About 1 minute when the incident occurred.
 - About 3 minutes after the suspects go up the stairs from the Riverwalk at Columbus until they are seen walking up East South Water Street
- The video footage along the "River East Art Center Promenade" (pre-incident) and from the Hyatt (post incident) give us good footage showing their clothing.
- We located the SUN taxi that took them to Illinois and Lower LSD. We were able to collect video and audio from the cab which shows the entire trip and we are able to see their faces.
- The video from the SUN taxi also shows the two individuals getting out of what appears to be a LYFT SUV around Wells and Schiller right before flagging the SUN taxi down.

MARSHFIELD AREA:

- Reviewed video from AJ Hudson's Public House at Grace and Ashland. This video is constant and showed no movement between 0225 and 0245hrs. The video is pointed WB on Grace across Ashland. If the two individuals went East on Grace from Marshfield this camera would have picked them up by the time they hit Ashland. For this reason we set our East boundary of where we lost the individuals at Grace and Ashland
- We were able to retrieve the video from the Ring doorbell at 37███ N. Marshfield showing the two individuals walk past the house. This makes our South boundary at 3750 N. Marshfield.

- Using the boundaries we did extensive searches in the vicinity of the 3800 N block of Marshfield: 23 properties between 3750 and 3830 N. Marshfield and West on Grace from Ashland. So far no leads.

WELLS AREA:

- Canvassed for video and found a camera at Orso's Restaurant which shows the SUN cab driving NB.
- Driver of the SUN taxi was interviewed. Fare was $9.75 and the driver was given $20 and told to keep the change.
- The SD card from the SUN taxi in-car security camera was recovered and inventoried.

HYATT REGENCY:

- Located the "American Carriage Cab" (the Red cab from yesterday's update) that was parked outside of the HYATT, behind the "Yellow Cab" at the time two suspects got in the Yellow Cab. There was NO forward facing cameras.

ANCILLARY CONCERNS:

- Anonymous tip re: possible incident involving the victim at the Second Story Bar, 157 E Ohio - was found not to be reliable. Chicago City Council's LGBT Caucus Responds to Hate Act against Actor Jussie Smollett

The Chicago City Council LGBT Caucus is horrified to learn of the hateful and homophobic attack of Jussie Smollett in Chicago earlier this morning. Smollett, an openly gay actor and star of "Empire," was struck in the face by two men yelling racial and homophobic slurs before being doused in bleach and wrapped with a noose around his neck. As the men left they yelled, "this is MAGA country," a reference to Donald Trump's racist and homophobic campaign slogan, "Make America Great Again."

"My heart is with Mr. Smollett, his family, and his fans," said LGBT Caucus Vice Chair Alderman Deb Mell (33). "This hateful and barbaric act demands an immediate response from our law enforcement community. We must remain vigilant in the face of such extremism."

Alderman James Cappleman (46) added, "attacking someone for their race or sexual orientation is abhorrent, and I stand with my colleagues to demand that rights be protected and justice be served."

Alderman Raymond Lopez (15), Vice Chair of the City Council Committee on Human Relations, said that this attack is unfortunate for Chicago but not surprising in Trump's America. "We have seen time and again where people act on their ignorance because President Trump inspires them to do so. We must continue to resist him and his minions wherever they hide."

"I am outraged by the incident as it has been reported," said LGBT Caucus Chair Alderman Tom Tunney (44). "Attacks like this have no place in our city or anywhere in the world. We look forward to working with law enforcement to bring justice for Jussie Smollett and the LGBT Community."

Given the severity of these allegations, the LGBT Caucus demands that the Chicago Police Department and the Chicago Commission on Human Relations investigate this incident as a hate crime and, if found, pursue hate crimes charges against the offenders. Hate has no home in Chicago.

This is what TMZ is reporting, not sure where it's coming from 11:18 AM PT -- We're told cops recently visited a Target Department Store close to where the incident happened and obtained surveillance footage. Our source says the video shows one person -- presumably Jussie - - walking down the street. Officers also visited a nearby apartment building to ask for video.

11:20 AM PT -- Law enforcement sources tell us the FBI was already investigating the letter sent to Jussie last week containing racist and homophobic slurs.

11:10 AM PT -- Fox just issued this statement ... "We are deeply saddened and outraged to learn that a member of our EMPIRE family, Jussie Smollett, was viciously attacked last night. We send our love to Jussie, who is resilient and strong, and we will work with law enforcement to bring these perpetrators to justice. The entire studio, network and production stands united in the face of any despicable act of violence and hate -- and especially against one of our own."

10:30 AM PT -- "Empire" staff held an emergency meeting Tuesday morning in Chicago to tell everyone what happened to Jussie. We're told the cast and crew were extremely upset. Several actors were already in their trailers getting ready to shoot when they got the news.

We're told there was a discussion about getting extra security on set while shooting. They have a handful of episodes left to shoot for the current season.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 16, 2019

Contact: Chris Bastardi bastardi@sunshinesachs.com

Below please find a statement from Todd S. Pugh and Victor P. Henderson, attorneys for Jussie Smollett.

“As a victim of a hate crime who has cooperated with the police investigation, Jussie Smollett is angered and devastated by recent reports that the perpetrators are individuals he is familiar with. He has now been further victimized by claims attributed to these alleged perpetrators that Jussie played a role in his own attack. Nothing is further from the truth and anyone claiming otherwise is lying.

“One of these purported suspects was Jussie’s personal trainer who he hired to ready him physically for a music video. It is impossible to believe that this person could have played a role in the crime against Jussie or would falsely claim Jussie’s complicity.

“Jussie and his attorneys anticipate being further updated by the Chicago Police Department on the status of the investigation and will continue to cooperate. At the present time, Jussie and his attorneys have no inclination to respond to “unnamed” sources inside of the investigation, but will continue discussions through official channels.”
